

Early American Studies

An Interdisciplinary Journal

VOLUME 14, ISSUE 3 (SUMMER 2016)

Contents

- “The happy effects of these waters”: Colonial American Mineral
Spas and the British Civilizing Mission 409
VAUGHN SCRIBNER
- America in Ruins: Cooper, Child, and the Problem of the National House 450
HALINA A. ADAMS
- Rediscovering Native North America: Settlements, Maps, and
Empires in the Eastern Woodlands 478
CHAD ANDERSON
- The Effect of Military Service on Indian Communities in Southern New England, 1740–1763 506
BRIAN D. CARROLL
- Women, Property, and the Law in the Anglo-American World, 1630–1700 537
LINDSAY R. MOORE
- Jefferson’s Legacy, Race Science, and Righteous Violence in Jabez Hammond’s Abolitionist Fiction 568
NICHOLAS P. WOOD

Consider the Source

- “I Thought They Were Worthy”: A Dutch Reformed Church
Minister and His Congregation Debate African American
Membership in the Church 610
ANDREA C. MOSTERMAN